

How to create this landscape view in a mobile only report in Power BI

If you have a mobile report in Power BI it works amazing. Except the landscape view. This view presents a smaller, responsive report but never shows it nicely. So i always show information to enduser to turn the device! How? In this Free document i give you the magic tip!

Step 1: Bring your mobile report elements inside Power BI desktop

Bring all elements inside Power BI that you want to see in the mobile report. So think about clean KPI's and some trends. Don't forget the design part of it!

Tabular visuals are really hard to show on a mobile device.

Step 2: Switch to Mobile View and create the mobile report

On the bottom left you can start working on a mobile report by clicking on the mobile icon.

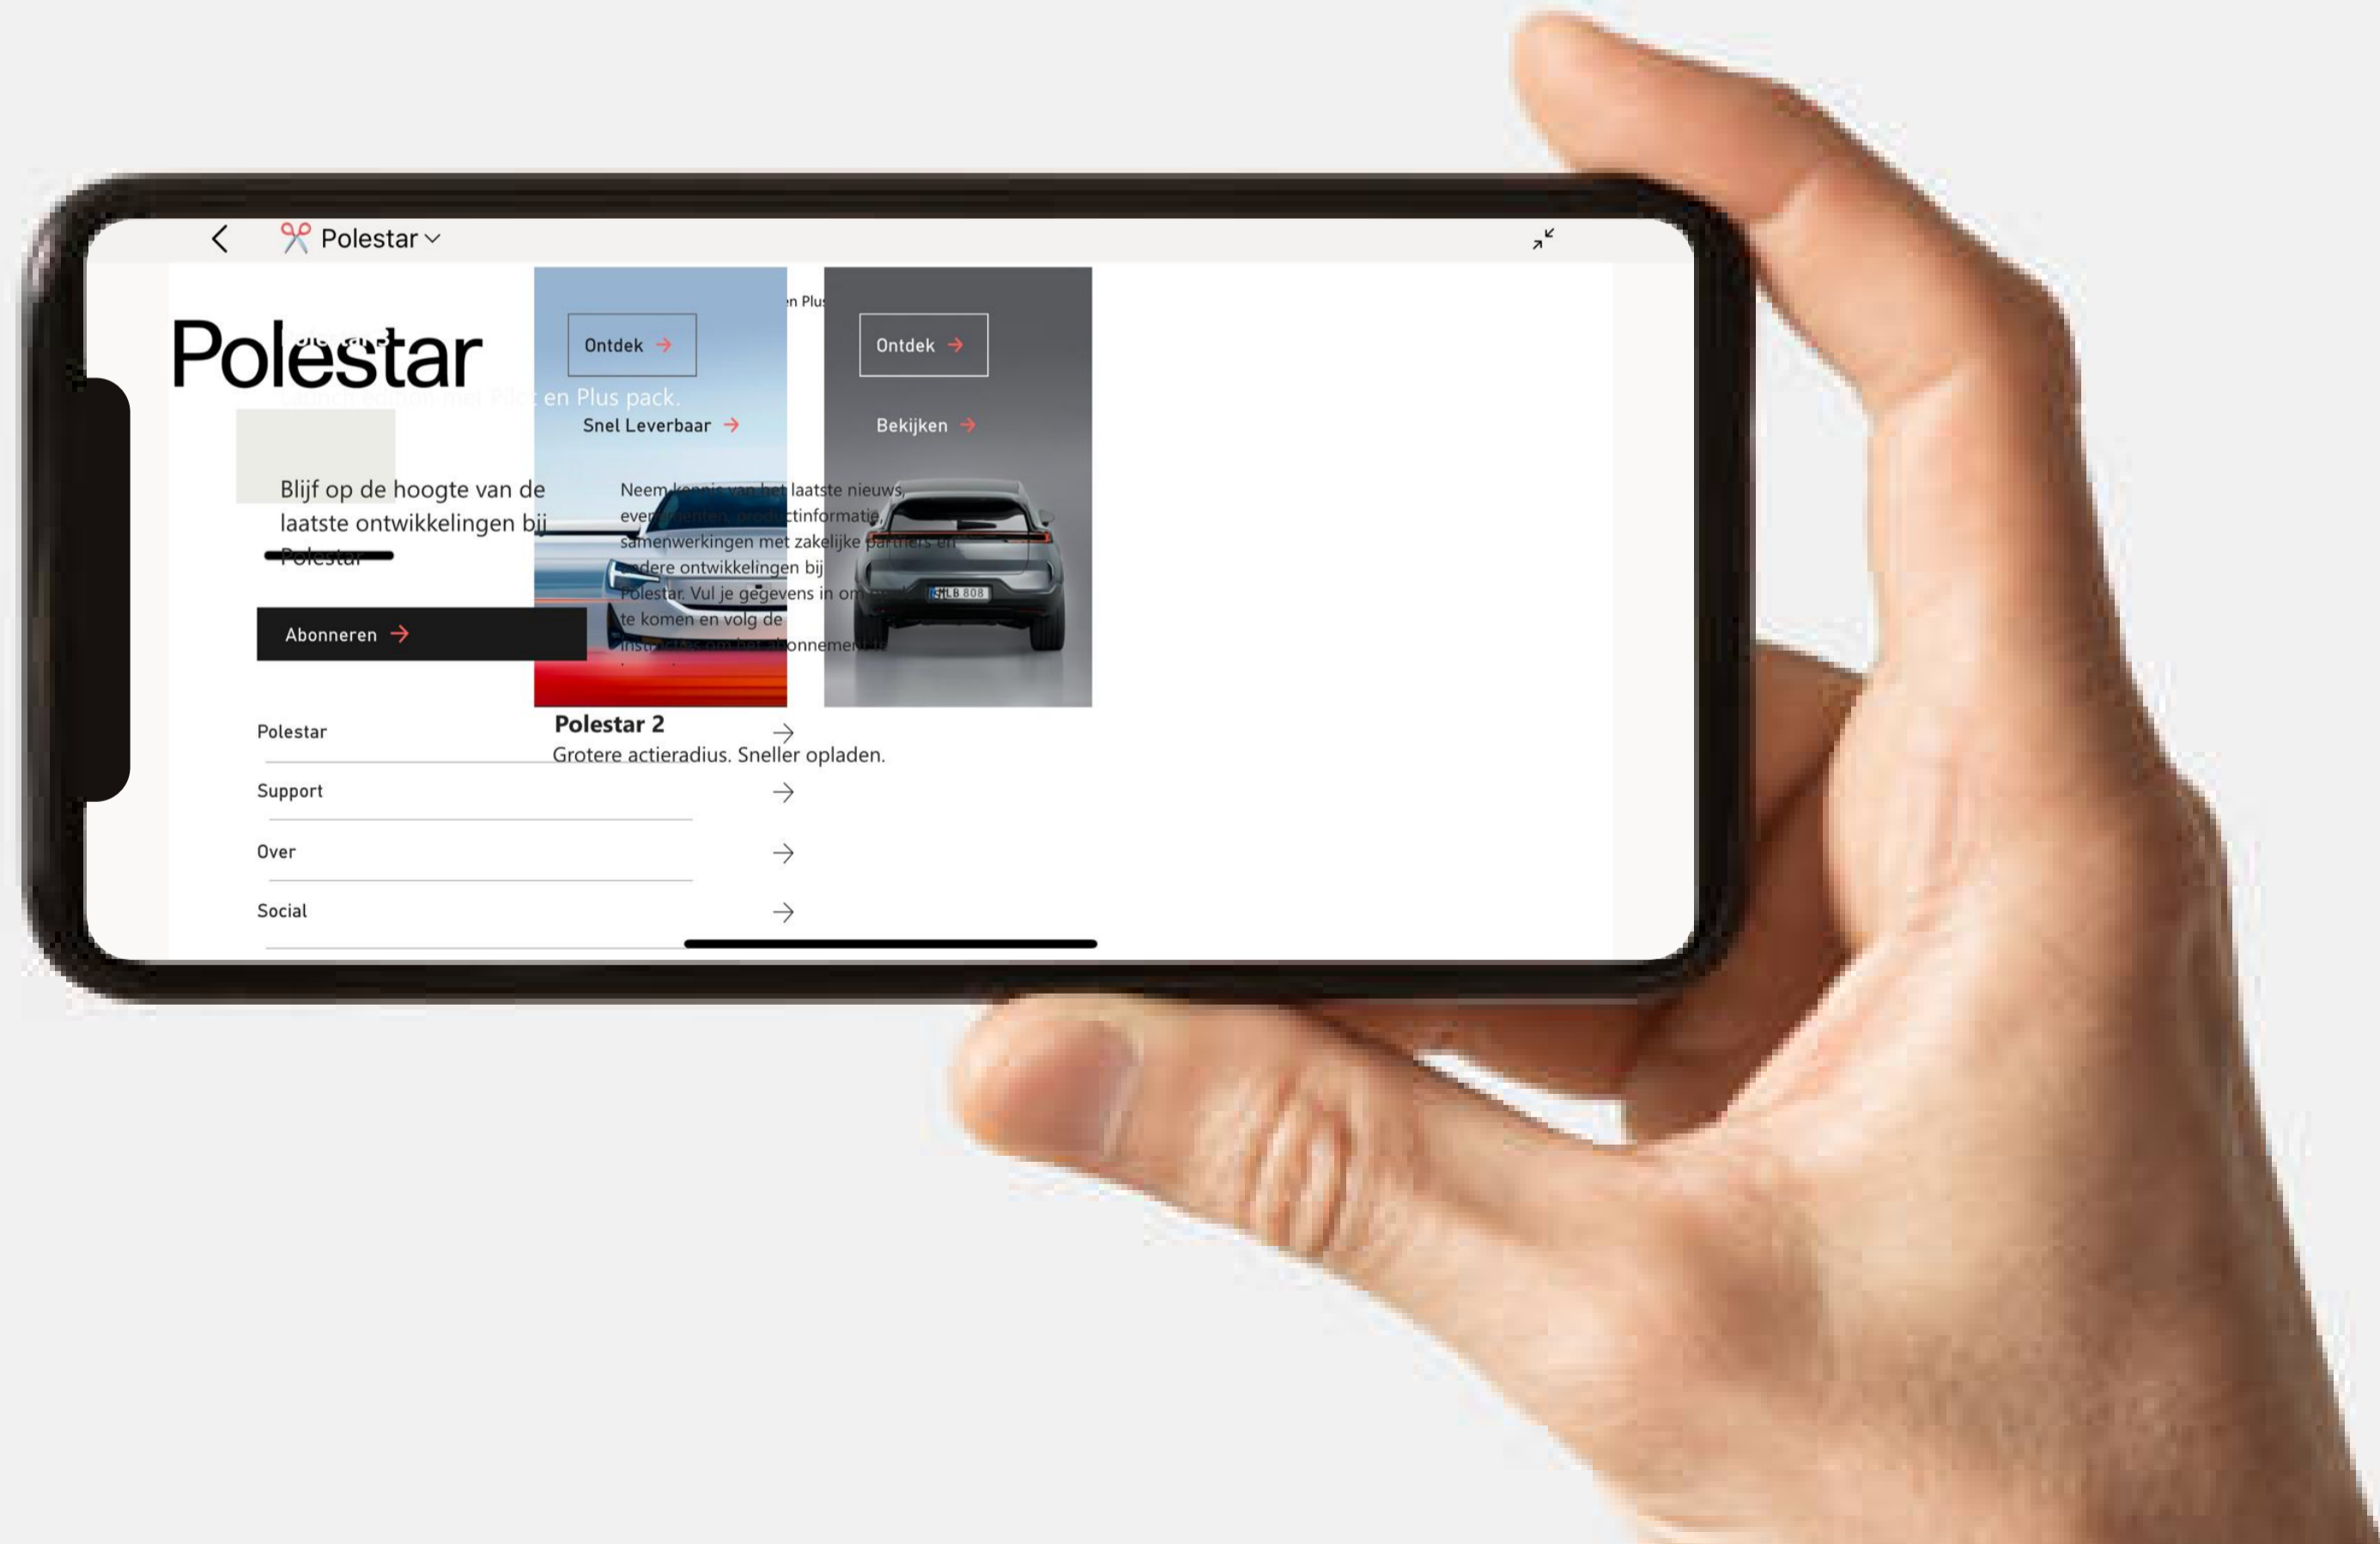

Drag and drop the Page Visuals from right to left. Now put them nicely into the Portrait view of the mobile canvas, like this example.

Tip: You can use layer on layer!

Problem you are facing!

When you have created the Portrait view and rotate you mobile device into a Landscape view you see a squeezed responsive mobile report that is not mobile friendly and good looking!

Solution: Insert a new layer to the desktop report with a information image!

If you look at this example i have insert a 100% width/height colored shape with 3 images in it like the Polestar car. I inserted the “Please rotate your device to experience our app” image inside of it also.

Put this layer group (Named Frontend) on TOP of the sorting. So all mobile items are located under that group

After publishing the landscape view looks like this!

Hope you like this trick that i use for years now!

And the
portrait view
looks like this!
